PRICE THREE CENTS

PURCHASERS OF M'PHERSON BLDG. TO USE 2 STORES

People's Cash Grocery And Adams County Hardware Stores To Be Vacated.

With the transfer of the deeds to the four properties in the McPherson block, Baltimore street, Tuesday evening, officials of the G. C. Murphy company and the Mack Realty company, both of McKeesport, today announced plans for the immediate future of the real estate, purchased at a cost of $140,000.

George M. Mack, treasurer of the Murphy company and of the Mack Realty concern, and Attorney J. P. Fife, member of the legal firm of Douglas, Fife and Young, Pittsburgh attorneys, consummated the deal for the purchase of the property, Tuesday evening.

To Use 2 Stores
The Mack Realty company which is helping to finance the purchase of the property, is a subsidiary of the Murphy company, which operates a chain of stores selling merchandise ranging from 5 cents to $1.

According to Mr. Mack and Mr. Fife, the Murphy company will remodel the first floor of the star and Sentinel building, now occupied by the Adams County Hardware company and the People's Cash grocery, for its own store. The present proprietors of these two businesses, H. H. Thomas, of the hardware company, and W. F. Gilliland, proprietor of the grocery, have not yet received notices that their present leases will not be renewed after they expire next April 1, but such notices will be given them within a few days, it was stated.

Remodel First Floor
As soon as the hardware company and the grocery vacate, the company will begin remodeling the first floor of the building in such a way that they will have a large and modern storeroom for their business. Other occupants of the Star and Sentinel building, the Crawford, Columbia and McPherson buildings, will be allowed to renew their leases next year, no plans for remodeling the other properties in the block have been formulated.

The Murphy company operates 136 stores in a chain through Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, West Virginia, Kentucky, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and Michigan.

P. W. Stallsmith, of Gettysburg, has been retained as the local agent of the Mack Realty company.

12-year Old Girl Dies This Morning

Fay Helen Trump, 12-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Trump, Latimore township, died this morning from a brain affliction, after a lingering illness.

She is survived by two brothers and four sisters: Ralph and Paul, and Esther, Edith, Mabel and Alma; three grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. George C. LaRue, and William Trump.

Funeral services will be held Saturday morning from the Chestnut Grove Lutheran church, the Rev. L. B. Hafer, officiating.

Young Laborer Is Cremated In Kiln

Hummelstown, Oct. 3.—(AP)—A laborer was cremated in a lime kiln at Bradley's quarry, near here, Tuesday, when he lost his balance while charging the oven with coke and fell from the top of the kiln. The man was Ernest Bruce, 23, of Union Deposit.

Fellow workers who were summoned by his cries were unable to extricate him from the furnace before his body was burned to ashes.

He is survived by a widow and an infant.

4 COMMIT SUICIDE

Pittsburgh, Oct. 3. (AP)—Four persons, two men and two women, committed suicide here last night. One woman died of a gunshot wound and the other from effects of poison, while one of the men by hanging.

Home Again

As is usually the case when a large liner docks at New York the film world was represented, this time in the person of Dainty Sue Carol. The movie queen is shown above as she appeared when Leviathan docked at New York.

Mrs. Pfeiffer Observes 91st Anniversary

Mrs. J. Q. A. Pfeiffer today quietly observed her ninety-first birthday anniversary at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Pierce, Kalbfleisch apartment.

Although she has been bedfast for nearly three years, Mrs. Pfeiffer is in comparatively good health, and eats heartily. Somewhat nearsighted, she is able, nevertheless, to read a book or newspaper at close range without the use of glasses.

Mrs. Pfeiffer was born in Philadelphia, her maiden name being Miss Mary Jane Zeigler, and for many years she has resided in Gettysburg, having been living on East Middle street opposite the Methodist Episcopal church during the battle.

Mrs. Pfeiffer's husband is in his eighty-ninth year.

YORK MAN MAY HEAD FIREMEN

James Chalfant Is Nominated For Presidency; Big Parade To Feature Program.

James Chalfant, of York, at present vice president of the State Firemen's association, was nominated for the presidency, at Tuesday's session. He is expected to be elected without opposition.

Many Gettysburg firemen are in attendance at the convention now under way in Uniontown, Pennsylvania, and the local department is expected to make a creditable showing in the parade which features today's program.

Mrs. Victor Burschell, of Dunmore and Mrs. John F. Young, of York, were nominated for president of the auxiliary. Mrs. Young was the originator of the auxiliary and has twice served as president. At present she is a director.

Mrs. R. E. Weimer, Morrisville, was nominated for first vice president of the auxiliary; Mrs. Harvey Kohler, Allentown, second vice president and Mrs. Hanna Cummings, West Catasauqua, third vice president.

Three cities, Pittsburgh, Lebanon and Norristown, are making a determined effort to land the 1929 meeting.

Today's convention program will be featured by an industrial parade to include numerous bands and pieces of fire apparatus and the convention parade will be staged Thursday when the convention closes.

STOCK REPORT

New York, Oct. 3.—(AP)—A flood of selling orders brought into the stock market over the night gave opening prices today a week undertone. Several large blocks of stocks changed hands in the early trading until strong buying support came into the market when prices began to stabilize. Chrysler motor and Wright aeronautical each broke about 4 points and several other leaders dropped 2 to 3 points.

Crop To Be 30 Per Cent Larger Than Last Year; York Imperial Is Leading.

Picking and packing of Adams county's commercial apple crop, thirty per cent larger than last year and one of the biggest yields since 1920, will begin in earnest next Monday, according to a survey of the leading packing houses in Biglerville today.

Some apples are being shipped from Biglerville this week, the average being four and five carloads a day. To facilitate the placing and movement of cars, the Reading company has placed a shifting engine at the disposal of the packing houses. By next week it is expected from 15 to 20 carloads of apples will be sent out of Biglerville every day.

York Imperial Leads

York Imperial is the leading commercial variety, with Jonathan, Grimes Golden, Stayman, King David and Baldwin among the less popular varieties. While this year's crop is large, in fact one of the three largest yields the country has ever produced, the fruit is not all perfect, much scab worm being noticed.

Packing house proprietors who are buying "tree run" crops say the price paid for the fruit this year far surpasses that of any recent year. The price for "tree run" crops this year is from $1 to $1.20 a hundred pounds, which gives the orchardist between $3 and $3.25 a barrel for his fruit.

Two years ago, when the country produced an exceptionally large crop of commercial apples, the fruit was being sold to packing houses at 40 cents a hundred pounds for "tree runs."

Some Shipped Abroad
Some of the apples packed now are being shipped abroad for sale in England and Continental Europe while others are being placed in storage.

The Biglerville Cold Storage company today reported about 5,000 barrels in storage, with prospects good that the huge building, capable of holding 75,000 barrels, will be filled before the season closes.

The C. H. Musselman company, Biglerville, has begun the manufacture of apple butter, vinegar, and apple base, the latter for use during the winter months in making preserves of various kinds. The company is also canning apples for the wholesale and retail trade.

The picking and packing season, which will get under way next week, will continue five or six weeks, depending upon the weather. The apples about to be picked for storage and immediate shipment are said to be coloring nicely, and should command good prices on the market.

Few Friends See Gene and Polly Marry

Rome, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Surrounded by a little group of intimate friends, Gene Tunney, retired heavyweight champion, and Miss Mary Josephine Lauder, of Greenwich, Connecticut, were married today at the Hotel Russie.

Two salons of the royal apartment, normally reserved for visiting sovereigns were used, one for the civil ceremony which was performed by Signor Drosserio, a leading Fascist, and the other for the religious ceremony performed by Monsignor Joseph A. Breslin, of the American College in Rome, and one time parish priest of the Tunney family in New York.

After the ceremony, a dinner at which there were 25 guests, was served and the couple then left by automobile for an unrevealed destination on their honeymoon.

Miss Lauder, who is wealthy and socially prominent, was dressed in velvet trimmed with lace. Tunney wore a black sack suit which brought out his superb physique strikingly.

LICENSE TO WED

A marriage license was issued here Tuesday to Raymond Lawrence Sanders, Hanover, and Mary Cora Gross, McSherrystown.

Towaxway Council, 288, Degree of Poochanas will raise the chiefs and hold a social at the lodge room, Friday evening at 7:30.

Son Succeeds His Father, Assessor Highland Township

C. Lehman Weaver was appointed assessor of Highland township by the county commissioners at their weekly session Tuesday. He succeeds his father, the late Harry W. Weaver, who was fatally injured in a fall from a load of hay. The appointee's term will expire December 1, 1929.

After transacting business in the office during the forenoon, the commissioners and their clerk went to the Hanover General hospital to visit James I. Devine, a member of the board, who has been a patient there for a number of weeks, suffering from an infected toe. It was said the toe probably would be amputated shortly, and that he would be discharged as a patient as soon as he has recovered from the operation.

ADAMS TENTH IN FARM VALUE

Falls Short Of Reaching $5,000,000 Value; State Production Equals Ten States.

Adams county ranks tenth in the value of principal farm crops produced during the year, according to a statement from the department of Agriculture.

Nine Pennsylvania counties each produced crops valued at more than $5,000,000, in 1927, and only eight produced less than $1,000,000.

Adams county fell short of the million mark by $117,790.

York county ranked next to Lancaster, which led the state, and Franklin county was sixth.

Lancaster county produced almost as much in value of principal farm crops as the states of Delaware and Rhode Island combined and the Commonwealth as a whole produced more in value of all farm crops than the total of the ten states—Arizona, Connecticut, Delaware, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Mexico, Rhode Island, Utah, Vermont and Wyoming.

The value of principal farm crops in the first ten counties in 1927 are:
Lancaster $18,609,740
York 10,218,250
Chester 8,754,550
Berks 8,657,600
Bucks 6,565,100
Franklin 6,158,800
Westmoreland 5,269,180
Cumberland 5,154,400
Bradford 5,054,750
Adams 4,882,210

University Enrolls 72-year Old Student

Chicago, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Having kept the records of tens of thousands of students at the University of Chicago for thirty-five years, Frederic J. Gurney, at the age of 72 has decided to see how the university looks from the classroom. Age compelling his retirement as recorder, he was enrolled as a student.

"I thought I'd get some of this education I have been watching here ever since the university was established," he said. He plans to "brush up" on foreign languages, which he studied a generation ago at the University of Michigan.

In his first class, beginners' French, most of Gurney's classmates were young enough to be his grandchildren.

Bennett J. Doty, Sentenced To Die for Deserting French Foreign Legion, Coming Here

"Gilbert Clare," Of The Legion Of The Condemned, Decorated For Bravery, Deserter, Has Death Sentence Commuted, Serves 9 Months, Pardoned And Now A Hero, To Speak At College.

Bennett J. Doty, the "Gilbert Clare" of the French Foreign Legion, the Legion of the Damned, the young American who enlisted in the Legion because he found difficulty in adjusting himself to post-war conditions at his home in Tennessee, will speak at Gettysburg College, January 21, Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president, announced today.

Doty will be remembered as the courageous and daring Yankee who sought adventure and excitement with the Legionnaires of France—after he had served his own country well—at St. Mihiel, the Argonne and other places.

He attended Vanderbilt University and the University of Virginia, but the call of adventure was strong and in early 1925 sailed for Europe as a deck hand.

Fought Mohammedans
In June 1925 he joined the Foreign Legion at Bordeaux as "Private Gilbert Clare." He became a member of a famous contingent, the "Vingt-neuvieme Compagnie" which was destined for a brilliant war record against the Druses in Syria—the blood-thirsty Mohammedan heretics who ask and give no quarter.

In October he won the Croix de Guerre for distinguished action under fire. He could stand up under the most gruesome warfare—but he couldn't stand up under the hard routine demanded of the Legionnaires during peace times.

For men who lose their tempers under the gruelling grind and the harsh discipline, "the plute" is provided. Once Doty carried a 70-pound sack of sand on his back, eight hours a day for eight days—without rest, without stop—and in hottest weather.

Doty and three companions deserted. After a series of harrowing escapades they were recaptured, tried by court martial and convicted.

Pardoned—A Hero
Doty was ordered to face the firing squad. The date of his execution had been fixed, when his identity became known and American friends and relatives used their influence to secure his release. The French Government recalled that Private Doty was the Legionnaire who had the admiration of his fellow-soldiers at Rezzas—and that he had done his bit in the World war, too.

The threatening death sentence took form in a decree of "eight years imprisonment." Nine months of his sentence had been served when there came a full pardon, with reinstatement in the Legion.

Joyfully Doty rejoined his buddies, applied once again for foreign service and was scheduled for the Rif troubles in Morocco, when word came that he had been honorably mustered out of service, at the request of friends and authorities in the United States.

Now Doty is telling his story of the Legion. He gives facts and intimate details. His appearance at Gettysburg College will be greeted by a large audience, it is believed.

Urges Motorists to Guard Against State Forest Fires

A plea to motorists to help guard against forest fires was made today by S. Edward Gable, president of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation.

"When fields and forests take on their robes of autumnal splendor they wear a fragile finery that may easily go up in smoke," the Federation head said. "Statistics show that nearly 50 per cent of forest fires in Pennsylvania are caused by careless smokers tossing flaming matches or lighted cigarettes away. This cause exceeds even lightning as an agent of destruction by fire in the mountainous regions."

Motorists At Fault
"The motorists is responsible for much of this destruction, for nowadays it is through the medium of the automobile that the great majority travel through woods and mountains. A lighted match or cigarette tossed into the underbrush along the road as the motor car speeds along causes many a disastrous forest fire that readily could have been averted."

Mr. Gable called attention to the fact that the camp fire not fully extinguished also causes numerous forest fires. "In this category the motorist again figures prominently," he said, "and come in for blame, for it is the motor car that, in most instances, conveys the camper or the hunter to his destination and home again."

"Pennsylvania has thousands of square miles of valuable forest lands. Each year broad stretches of these are laid waste by fire. The motoring public, which constitutes a great body of citizens who use the highways that stretch across hill and valley, through field and forest, must assume a goodly share of responsibility for safeguarding these lands against fire and other menaces. There is law to cope with the person who maliciously sets a fire that destroys property, but none that deals directly with the one who idly tosses a lighted match or cigarette into the underbrush or who fails to extinguish fully a fire that has been lighted to cook a meal for a camp enjoying a motoring or hunting trip. What is needed in this instance is

Be Careful
"Autumn in all of its glory is upon us. As we ride through the sweeping countryside of Pennsylvania at this season, stop at a convenient spot for a trek through the woods, or pull our car up to the hunter camp all ready for thrilling hours of adventure with hound and gun, let us bear in mind that in our hands rests much of the responsibility for the protection of the woodlands that provide such a wonderful setting for our autumnal trip."

"A little care and caution on the part of each and everyone, whether in motor car or afoot, will do much to reduce the annual forest fire loss in Pennsylvania. Motorists can aid materially in the statewide and nationwide fight against this menace."

CHARGES ASSAULT WITH AUTOMOBILE
Pottsville, Oct. 3. (AP)—Benedict Dunbrosky, charged with killing John Costingo by running over him with an automobile after Costingo had been beaten in a fight was released under $12,000 bail today.

The testimony of a 12 year old girl implicated Dunbrosky and 6 others. She said Dunbrosky attacked Costingo and then drove over him in an automobile.

Asks $20,000 For Airplane Injuries
Pottsville, Oct. 3. (AP)—Damages totaling $20,000 for shock and injuries alleged to have been suffered in an airplane wreck were asked in a suit filed in the Schuylkill county courts today. Mrs. Joseph Keating, of Mahanoy City, asked this amount from the Noble aircraft company, of Pottsville, as the result of the wreck of an airplane in which she was a passenger.

U. B. PASTORS TO GET $1,350

Pennsylvania Conference Adopts Recommendation Increasing Minimum Wage.

United Brethren ministers will receive not less than $1350 a year, according to a recommendation adopted by the Pennsylvania conference of the United Brethren Church, convening in Hagerstown. The recommendation was made by the Rev. Dr. Charles E. Fultz, who was re-elected conference superintendent for the four consecutive years, by a vote of 102 out of 109. The new minimum wage is an increase of $100 over the previous wage fixed by the conference, and it also provides a parsonage for the pastor.

In his annual report, Dr. Fultz announced that there have been 2391 conversions during the last year, 2300 accessions to the church, making a net gain in membership of 985. There are now 30,777 members in the Pennsylvania Conference. Over $500,000 was received last year in contributions, and $83,811 was paid on church property during the year. There are now 130 churches free from debt, and 62 parsonages have been cleared of debt, Dr. Fultz reported.

Rev. F. L. Stine, Gettysburg, was appointed a member of the committee on pastor's reports.

E. M. WOLF, 79, SUCCUMBS ON TUESDAY NIGHT

Prominent Retired Merchant Dies of Pneumonia; Was Taken Ill On Sunday.

Two weeks after the death of his oldest brother, Attorney Charles M. Wolf, of Hanover, Edward M. Wolf, retired Gettysburg warehouse proprietor, died at the Warner hospital at 9:15 o'clock, Tuesday evening. He observed his seventy-ninth birthday June 5.

Mr. Wolf, who for some time made his home with Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Kelly, York street, contracted pneumonia over the week-end, and went to bed Sunday. Monday afternoon, he was removed to the hospital where his condition was considered serious but not critical. His condition became critical Tuesday when the aged man's heart showed signs of stress. He was conscious, however, to within a short time of his passing.

Born Near Hanover
Mr. Wolf was born on the Bittinger farm, now owned by the Bethlehem mines' corporation, north of Hanover, June 5, 1849, third son of the late J. George and Eleanor C. Wolf. Later the family moved to the farm of his grandfather, Isaac Wolf, on the Lincoln highway, west of Abbottstown. Mr. Wolf attended schools in the vicinity of Abbottstown, and later was a student at the Thaddeus Pfeiffer academy, near New Oxford.

Mr. Wolf and another brother, David Wolf, of Baltimore, went into business with their father in the feed, coal and lumber warehouse on North Stratton street, founded by the late J. George Wolf. After the death of the founder, the business was conducted under the name of "J. George Wolf's Sons" until C. M. Wolf, York street, purchased the business on July 22, 1909. Since then, Mr. Wolf has lived retired, spending part of the winters in Florida and part of the summers in Atlantic City.

Funeral On Friday
Mr. Wolf is survived by one son, C. M. Wolf, York street; one sister, Mrs. Lucy Weaver, Washington, D. C., and three brothers, the Rev. Dr. L. B. Wolf and David Wolf, both of Baltimore, and S. Anderson Wolf, of Concord, North Carolina. Mrs. Wolf died November 5, 1918.

Funeral services from the home of his son Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Rev. Earl J. Bowman, pastor of St. James Lutheran church, officiating. Interment in Evergreen cemetery.

Gettysburg Man Is Operated Upon
Allen Leist, Gettysburg, was admitted to the Warner hospital and submitted to an operation for the removal of his appendix. Andy Aspers, county home, also was admitted.

Catherine Busey, Waynesboro, injured in an automobile accident here several weeks ago; Bernard Slaybaugh, Littlestown, and Mrs. George Zerling, Gettysburg, were discharged as patients.

Xmas Trees to Be Cheap; Ban is Lifted
Santa Claus will be a Santa in more ways than one this Christmas.

Christmas trees should be cheaper in Pennsylvania next December because of the removal of a quarantine against importation of trees from the province of Quebec, Canada. Ordinarily three trees are shipped at Christmas time from Quebec to Pennsylvania to every home-grown tree used in the State.

The quarantine was applied two years ago for fear the gypsy moth, which was causing much damage to the trees in Quebec, would spread to the United States. The campaign of the Canadian authorities against the moth has been so successful, according to the State Department of Forests and Waters, that there is no longer any chance of endangering the forests here by spread of the insect.

Scion To Wed Girl Swimming Teacher

Liverpool, England, Oct. 3.—(AP)—A romance of high seas is to result in the marriage October 10 of Francis Lee Higginson, III, twenty-three-year-old scion of the Boston banking family, and Miss Dorothy Lucas, of Blundell Sands, a village near Liverpool.

Miss Lucas, who is the same age as Mr. Higginson, is the daughter of the Marine superintendent of the Furness Steamship Line. She is an attractive brunette and was swimming instructor on the Cunard liner Franconia during a world cruise last winter when she and Higginson met.

The wedding will take place at the little suburban church of St. Nicholas, in Blundell Sands. Mr. Higginson arrived in Liverpool two days ago to prepare for the wedding and honeymoon trip, which will be a motor tour of England. The couple intend to reside in Boston. Date for their departure to their future home has not been fixed.

Scranton Man Is Missing From Ship

New York, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Officers of the liner Majestic reported on arrival here Tuesday that Samuel Frank, vice president of the Household Outfitting company, of Scranton, Pa., on his way home from a European trip, had disappeared from the ship Monday and was believed to have either fallen or jumped overboard.

Frank went on deck for a stroll, telling his wife that he had not slept well and was nervous. He disappeared, and although the liner was searched, he was not found. He was 65 years old and a native of Cincinnati. Beside his wife he was accompanied on the trip by his two daughters, Miss Ruth Frank and Mrs. Clarence Weil, of Syracuse, and the latter's husband.

Three Killed And 2 Wounded In Feud

Kingsport, Tenn., Oct. 3.—(AP)—Carter's Valley, a rural community near here, was recovering from the excitement today caused by the slaying of three persons and the injuries of two others yesterday as a climax of a bitter mountain feud which originated in a controversy over a cow.

Three members of one family were killed, a fourth was wounded, and Miller Horn, who is reported to have caused the tragedy was wounded by a shot said to have been self-inflicted soon after the attack.

The victims are Neal Smith, a farmer, his wife and an elder son. A second son was shot but escaped further injury by hiding in a ditch near the body of his mother.

CAB DRIVERS ARE AT IT AGAIN IN GAY OLD CHICAGO

Chicago, Oct. 2.—Chicago's perennial taxicab war has broken out afresh—and taxicab wars in Chicago are nothing so trivial as arguments over rates.

In his city of great distances and no subways, a taxicab "war" is a war; a battle; a fight; a combat, often mortal, wherein the fittest drivers push and slap and slug and shoot and bomb their way through competition. It is a hard and continuous game, a modernized relic of the vigorous days when rival hansom cabbies fought for fares around the more prosperous inns and other establishments along Clark and Dearborn and Monroe streets.

Two Garages Bombed
The present war flamed up early Tuesday when two garages of the largest taxicab companies in the city were bombed almost simultaneously. At the first place a door was blown away, all windows were shattered, several cabs were damaged and twenty employees were driven out but uninjured. Adjoining buildings were shaken and windows of many homes within two blocks' radius of the place were broken.

At the second garage the property damage was not so great, but three employees were injured slightly. Police were quick to recognize the hood-lumism as evidence of two principal companies operating autos for hire, and as a result, all garages of both companies are under police watch tonight.

LEGION MEN TO MEET AT ALAMO YANKEE SHRINE

San Antonio Prepares For Coming Of Legionnaires, October 8th To 12th Inclusive.

San Antonio, Texas.—(AP)—The Yanks are coming! Between 75,000 and 100,000 members of the American Legion and its feminine auxiliary are expected to be in San Antonio, October 8 to 12, for the tenth national convention of the World War veterans' organization.

For many of the soldiers and nurses of a decade ago the convention will be, in a way, a home-coming. More than a quarter of a million men trained for the war at the dozen military posts near San Antonio, including Fort Sam Houston, Camp Travis and Kelly Field.

To others it will be the first pilgrimage to a great shrine of American valor in battle—the Alamo, where 172 Texas soldiers, fighting an army of 4,000 nearly a century ago, died like the Spartans at Thermopylae.

Pershing to Attend
On the plaza of the Alamo will be the reviewing stand for the big parade the second day of the convention. There Gen. John J. Pershing will see again the men whom he commanded ten years ago. He will be back in the city from which he was called to Washington in 1917 to take command of the American army.

In the reviewing stand with General Pershing will be Field Marshal Sir Edmund H. Allenby, commander of the British army which liberated the Holy Land; Maj. Georges Scapini, blinded war hero of France, now a member of the chamber of deputies, and Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who, like many of the marching men, received his earliest army training at San Antonio.

Colonel To Lead
Leading the parade as grand marshal will be Col. Beaumont Buck, a retired officer, who, as a rider on the first American offensive at Cantigny, Armed with only a riding quirt, he led the first wave of the attack. For his example of major general in war time, carabancy to his men he was decorated with the Distinguished Service Cross and later made a chevalier of the French Legion of Honor.

The automobile which Woodrow Wilson used when he was commander-in-chief of the men who answered his call to "make the world safe for democracy" will roll along in the legion parade. Mules as well as motors of war days will appear, too. Among these will be Verdun, mascot of the Fifteenth field artillery that was foaled in 1917 on the battlefield after which it is named.

GIANT ZEPPELIN VISITS ENGLAND

Lowestoft, England, Oct. 3.—(AP)—England was thrilled by her first Zeppelin "invasion" since April, 1918, Tuesday night. Instead of diving into bombproofs to escape a rain of death while searchlights and artillery raked the heavens, the inhabitants watched the Graf Zeppelin with friendly interest.

They marveled at the vastness of the dirigible as sketched in the sky by her lights. The airship, making her last and longest trial flight before starting a transatlantic service, reached the English coast just south of here and passed over the city at 9:05 p. m.

This Suffolk coast, lying between the Wash and the Thames mouth, was perhaps the most frequently troubled during the war by hostile air invaders approaching from the North Sea and returning to Germany after loosing bombs over London.

The Graf Zeppelin turned northwest from here, apparently to cruise over the midlands before hovering over the metropolis. Above the milky smoke pall over London, the sky was clear, with a waning moon to guide the air voyagers.

2 Stowaway Chinks Are Buried At Sea

Galveston, Tex., Oct. 3 (AP)—Two of 9 Chinese who stowed away in the coal bunkers of the English steamship Mayby which arrived last night from Cuba, smothered to death enroute and were buried at sea. The other 7 were unconscious when found.

Two members of the ship's crew were held for investigation.

Endurance Fliers Are Forced Down

San Diego, Cal., Oct. 3.—(AP)—Their attempt to break the world's record for sustained flight frustrated by a leak in one of the gas tanks of their Bellanca monoplane, William Brock and Edward Schlee were forced down Monday night and landed at Rockwell Field at 6:10 o'clock. The had been aloft since 6:49 a. m., last Saturday or for a period of 59 hours and 30 minutes, the official timekeepers announced.

This is about six hours less than the world's record established by Johann Ristiez and William Zimmerman of Germany at 65 hours and 25 minutes.

Although they failed to set a new world's record, they made a new American endurance mark, beating that of 53 hours and 30 minutes and 30 seconds made by Edward A. Stinson and George W. Hadleman at Jacksonville, Fla., by about six hours.

Both Brock and Schlee were in good physical condition at the end of the long flight.

The highest altitude reached in the flight, Brock said, was 7,000 feet, but most of the time the plane was kept at an altitude of between 200 and 500 feet.

BYRD LEAVES ON TWO YEAR JAUNT

Boston, Oct. 2 (AP)—Commander Richard E. Byrd, bound for two years exploration in the Antarctic, bade farewell to his four children Monday and left Boston at 3:20 p. m. on the Wolverine express for San Pedro until his departure on the whaler Larsen on October 6.

Before leaving he expressed his gratitude to the people of Boston for the support they had given to his expedition.

"Ever since I have lived in Boston," he added, "people have made me feel at home. I shall look forward to coming back here in 1930. I think that Bostonians are more like Virginians than any people I have met."

Commander Byrd is a native of Virginia.

THREE TEAMS TO MAKE TRIP TO PENN STATE

Coach Bream Heads Large Tribe To State College For Clash With Bezdek's Eleven.

Gettysburg College will send three complete football teams to State College, Friday morning, for the second game of the season, the clash with Penn State, on Saturday.

Head Coach Henry Bream, Assistant Coach "Haps" Frank and Athletic Director, C. E. Billheimer, will be in charge of the contingent, leaving here Friday morning at 9 o'clock, stopping at Lewistown for noon lunch and arriving at State College in the afternoon.

The Bullets will be billeted in University Hall, on the campus, while Gettysburg fans will be housed in the Nittany Inn.

Coach Bream is sending his men through two scrimmage sessions this week. The first scrimmage took place this afternoon, when the Bullets battled for two hours. Thursday afternoon will find the Orange and Blue in another warring session, not more than three-quarters of an hour and the crew will be given a rest until the afternoon of the game.

Tuckey, Mensch and Slaughter, three varsity candidates, and stars of former years, who did not see action against American university last Saturday, will be used against Penn State.

Big "Ick" Slaughter, veteran tackle for three years, is being pushed for his varsity berth by Moller, a sophomore. Slaughter has been suffering from an injured nose and since the injury has been shaping up slowly. Moller has been setting a fast pace and unless Slaughter shows marked improvement during the next week, local fans predict that Moller will over-shadow him for first selection on the varsity.

State To Give Best

State's poor showing against Lebanon Valley last Saturday is not an indication of the Bezdek-coached club's ability. Few regulars were used in the initial contest, and those who did see action, confined their attack to a program of straight football, using little or no aerial attack and only a few tricky formations.

Coach Bream is not regarding Penn State lightly. He is well aware of State's strength and the odds against the Bullets in this game. He is grooming his charges for the stiffest contest of the season.

Football dopsters here predict that Gettysburg has the best chance, it has had in ten years, to hold State on even terms. But even this optimistic feeling has had little effect on the young mentor. He is pointing his men to a tough proposition, satisfied that Hugo Bezdek will "shoot the works" to beat Gettysburg, decisively, if possible.

A large delegation of fans will make the trip to State College to lend their "Throaty" support to the Bullets.

CARDS GROWL; YANKS PEPPY

Sherdel And Hoyt Likely
Hurters In Opening Game Of Series Thursday.

New York, Oct. 3.—(AP)—New York and St. Louis baseball players Tuesday wasted a lot of base hits they will need on and after Thursday afternoon. The World Series contenders engaged in perfunctory practice confined almost entirely to batting. The Yankees took no infield workout and the only regular Cardinal infielders to exhibit their wares were Andy High and Rabbit Maranville. The two veterans insisted that they needed work.

Coach Charlie O'Leary left the American League infield off for the day, but promised that he would hit some sizzling grounders down to them tomorrow.

With only one day keeping them apart from actual hostilities, there is a marked contrast in the demeanor of the players on the field. The Yankees, with every reason to feel blue over an extended hospital list, apparently are carefree. They joked as they went about their abbreviated workout. They may be whistling to keep their courage up. There was great excitement and much cheering among the players when the diminutive Leo Durocher drove a ball into the stands.

Cards Are Crabby

The Cardinals, on the other hand, impatient for the "serious" play to begin, crab at each other and the world in general.

"Our bench is over there," a star yelled to an equally famous player as he stopped to speak to a former National Leaguer, now with the Yanks. The suggestion evidently was a hint against fraternizing.

There was also a bit of general wrangling, regarded as a healthy sign in ball players and fighters.

Manager Bill McKechie continues to insist that he has not decided on the opening game pitcher, but all the players think Bill is as certain to nominate Willie Sherdel as the silent Huggins is to draw the name of Waite Hoyt out of his old brown hat.

The first game will be played in New York, Thursday.

MAROONS WILL MEET LEBANON ON PLAYGROUND

High Eleven Clashes In First Inter-scholastic Tilt Here Saturday Afternoon.

With one game already chalked up on the right side of the ledger, Gettysburg high school's gridmen settled down to a week of strenuous practice in preparation for their second battle of the season.

Lebanon high, traditional rivals of the local institution, will be the Martinnen's opponents this Saturday. The game will be played on the Playground and should be one of the best home games on the Maroon schedule.

The visitors have always supplied the toughest kind of a game, and this year will be no exception. Lebanon opened its season last Saturday with a 6-0 victory over Elizabethtown high, and from advance reports, is counting on getting a battlefield scalp this week.

This tilt will also be the first Eastern Inter-Scholastic Conference tilt for each team, and each is anxious to grab the game. Gettysburg will play three conference games this year Lebanon, Lancaster and Reading all belonging to the conference.

New High Plays

On Monday, Coach Martin gave his squad a light workout as a reward for their victory last Saturday. Running, some kicking and a light signal drill comprised the abbreviated workout. Martin also gave a few new plays to his team for the coming game.

The Maroon squad did not escape unscathed in Saturday's tilt. Dave Reaser, center, and "Bad" Knox, quarterback, received slight injuries and were given a night's rest on Monday. Both expect to be back in trim in a few days.

Coach Martin seemed justly pleased with the work of his team in their first engagement. The forward line presented a stone wall defense, not one first down being made through them. The backs all flashed good form and with more experience should worry any team.

1,706,832 TAGS FOR '29 AUTOS

Renewal Cards Will Be Mailed
Out From State Offices
October 15, Says Report.

Automobile license tag sets to the number of 1,706,832 have been ordered by the State Motor Vehicle for 1929 distribution. All except two of the forty-nine carloads required have been received from the Western State Penitentiary, where they are manufactured and are ready for distribution at the bureau headquarters here.

The tags will follow the same system of numbering as employed on the 1928 plates, but the colors will be reversed. The State flag colors will again be used, with gold figures on a blue background.

Renewal cards will be sent out from the bureau October 1. The rush, as usual, will take place in December, officials anticipate. Failure to obtain the license before January 1 entails a $10 fine.

The number of tag sets ordered 1,706,832, is the number supplied to car owners this year. An increase is expected and before the initial supply is exhausted a new order will be placed with the Western Penitentiary.

Experts have never compiled statistics on the price of a poor memory, but Benjamin H. Some individuals pay several dollars extra with their license fee.

A million eight hundred thousand applications for automobile license tags will be placed in the mail within a few days, the result of twenty days' work, day and night shifts operating machines to print the addresses and other information on the forms. Each application requires a "window" envelope, open in front to reveal the name and address on the form, and a "solid" envelope, to be used by the applicant in returning the application.

Records of the Department forecast return of some 68,000 of these forms with the information that "addressee has moved, better address required." Postage alone lost on these amounts to $1360, and this does not take into account the cost of the form, envelope and labor.

Must Sign Application

Thousands of people fail to sign the application for license tags, causing a two to seven-day delay, in which time the bureau must return it to the sender with request for signature. This adds to the postage bill, clerical labor and bulk of mail handled.

Last year post offices furnished forwarding addresses for 17,000 applications, which had to be returned to the bureau. A postal rule forbids forwarding mail of this class. In each case the bureau sent a letter and a form for changing the address in the bureau records, after which a corrected application was made up. With the several extra operations, expense added up to a considerable sum.

Last-Minute Jam

The remaining applicants discovered at the last minute they had no applications, no tags, and the law forbade them to operate until they did have tags. Many sent special delivery requests for applications, some made special trips to Harrisburg, and others sent special messengers. In every case the bureau requires a formal notice on its special form, No. 1122, of the change of address before the files are corrected and new applications made up. License tags will not be issued until this has been done.

Grid Player Dies Of A Broken Neck

Philadelphia, Oct. 3.—Leo Goodreau, 19-year-old football player of Villanova College who broke his neck in a practice scrimmage Friday, died yesterday afternoon in Bryn Mawr Hospital. Hope for his recovery was abandoned earlier in the day when pneumonia developed in his partially paralyzed chest.

At 7 a. m. he had suffered a sinking spell and it was then thought that he could live but a few minutes. But oxygen administered at intervals by Dr. Edward A. McCloskey, of Chestnut Hill kept life from flickering out until 2:18 p. m.

When Goodreau was sinking in to a coma during the morning he began calling out football signals and he kept that up until unconsciousness gripped him. Also a bedside during the day we Dr. Alexander Evans and W. E. Lelle Lee.

reau last year had to do with adjustment of these cases and other in which the motor car owner failed to do his part. The system has been so simplified that only a writ ten signature and a check or money order is needed to bring the tag speeding through the mails. In spite of this, the bureau finds many thousands of dollars are lost each year because people move from one place to another and forget to notify the bureau. Some of these people will sign an application, without reading it, and get a license for a car which they sold months before. This costs them an extra $2 for transfer to the new car.

News From Neighboring Counties

AGRICULTURAL PROJECTS OF FRANKLIN LAUDED

Progress of three outstanding agricultural projects of Franklin county—dairying, tomato, and potato culture—and the part played by banks of the county in cooperation with the farmers and farm bureau in that progress was the topic of an address made Monday by County Agent J. H. Knobe before the agricultural commission of the National Bankers Association, meeting at the Bellevue Stratford Hotel, Philadelphia.

In his address, the county agent covered the last seven years of the farm bureau work in the county, showing the steps by which dairying had been increased to a three million dollar a year industry; now the county had become an exporter of potatoes and grower of almost eight thousand tons of tomatoes yearly.

NURSES ARE TOLD THEY ARE TOWN ASSETS.

"The Open Door," was the subject chosen by Rev. Dr. Paul O. Shettel, pastor of the Chambersburg First United Brethren Church, for the baccalaureate sermon to the graduates of the Nurses Training School of the Chambersburg Hospital. There are two graduates, Helen I. Wilkinson, of Chambersburg and Susan E. Crider of St. Thomas.

He based his remarks on Rev. 3:8 and said that as we come to life after training our talents, we stand at a gate of larger opportunity. First, opportunity leads us to a door of human needs, especially touching the body. He spoke of the great physical suffering during the World War, also of the suffering caused by the recent hurricane in the West Indies and Florida, and said that times like these we are lifted out of our own limitations in our administrations to human needs. These disasters show us that we live in a languishing world, but God still speaks, "Now I'll lift up myself" through you.

FREDERICK PREPARES FOR ANNUAL FAIR

With but two weeks remaining until the Great Frederick Fair, October 16, 17, 18, and 19, Frederickians who annually attend the event are preparing their entries, and officials of the Frederick County Agricultural Society, under the auspices of which the Fair is held, are engaged in assigning spaces, announcing sales of tickets, and many other details with the Fair.

Practically all space is taken in the buildings on the grounds, and daily entries are made and conferences held between Agricultural Society officers and persons who will exhibit at the Fair.

THREE HURT WHEN AUTO IS WRECKED

Three persons were injured, two seriously, Sunday morning, when the automobile in which they were riding toward Frederick skidded on the Hyattstown hill and crashed into a guard rail. The injured were taken to Frederick City Hospital, where they were said to be doing as well as could be expected.

Those injured: Frantz Seider, Washington, lacerations about the body and internal injuries. Mrs. Ada Carlton, Washington, fractured jaw and severe lacerations and bruises about the head. Miss Marguerite Brown, Mt. Rainer, fractured shoulder and minor injuries. Irvin G. Deakons, Washington, and Miss Rose Brown, Mt. Rainer escaped uninjured.

WAYNESBORO MUSICIANS MAKE GOOD AT COLLEGE

That training given members of the Waynesboro school band puts the young musicians in the forefront when they enter institutions of higher learning has been evidenced by reports of the activities of two high school graduates who were bandmen.

These are Ralph Harper and William Knapp—Harper the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Harper of South Potomac and Knapp the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Knapp.

Harper entered Dickinson and Knapp entered State. At Dickinson, Harper, who plays trombone, already has been enlisted for the band and school orchestra. Not only that but his vocal ability, it is said, has thus early been recognized, with the result that he is considered eligible for the glee club.

Knapp has become a member of the Freshman band at State, and a member of the college orchestra. He also has been a member of the Lutheran orchestra in the State College Lutheran church. He plays violin and trombone.

Home-Like Comforts for Byrd Antarctic Adventure

Million Dollar Expedition Will Pit World's Best In Men, Experience, Food and Equipment Against Unconquered Polar Continent.

By FRANKLIN C. ANDERSON

CIVILIZATION, with an imposing array of victories over tough old Mother Nature to its credit, is about to face its supreme test. It is trained to the minute with all the resources of recent progress as its weapons. A million dollars is in back of it in cash, credit or its equivalent that says the South Polar region must finally admit defeat.

Commander Richard E. Byrd and his band of 60 intrepid explorers, representing civilization's best, have set out to wrest the secrets of the Antarctic Region from its savage and stubborn confines. Sounds simple enough to say it, but Jason in his search for the Golden Fleece had a soft assignment in comparison with the super-man sized job of the dashing commander and his comrades.

Recently an Atlanta newspaper asked leading citizens what they thought of making the Antarctic trip with Byrd. The only one who did not envy the party was the official weatherman. He said bluntly that there was not enough money in the world to induce him to go to that section.

And when he had explained something of conditions down there, his knowledge somewhat justified his warnings. All available data on that vast, unknown and unfriendly section, points to the fact that the Antarctic is much colder than at the Arctic. At the proposed main base of the Byrd Expedition, the mean temperature is rated at 80 degrees below zero. In addition to the dangers of great, rugged, icy mountains and treacherous crevasses, one of the greatest hazards is the presence of gales whose velocity ranges from 80 to 160 miles an hour. Near the pole they attain velocities of 150 miles or more. When it is considered that these gigantic uprisings of nature often happen at a few minutes notice, manifesting themselves as terrific blizzards with no mercy for mere man, one can gather a faint idea of the savage risks the unwary explorer runs.

Key Barriers: Great Obstacles. Chains of huge, icy mountains, gigantic far flung ridges of ice that seem to say grimly, "Thy shall not pass" to the hardy explorer, abound on every hand to form almost insuperable obstacles. Great drifts of snow many feet deep add to the obstacles that the adventurers must face. At least ten expeditions have tried in vain to reach the South Pole. Some of them were not only thwarted by their ambitious designs, but were actually swallowed up by this strange, relentless continent.

The air also has its tremendous hazards. Intense cold, sweeping winds, snow and ice make airplane conquest a difficult if not impossible undertaking.

Against these forbidding obstacles Commander Byrd is prepared to hurl all the forces that civilization can place at his command. His men represent the pick of thousands of the country's best. As far as personal equipment is concerned, previous expeditions have had remarkable men, but men alone are not sufficient to win such a campaign as this promises to be.

The real test, in Commander Byrd's estimation, lies in the power of experience, knowledge, food, equipment and other elements to enable the expedition to outgeneral, outfight and outlast the fierce forces of nature in the "Antarctic." Never has a similar expedition been so manned, informed and equipped for its tasks as this one. Practically a million dollars is represented in outfitting the venture. About $150,000 of this amount is invested in the best food the world affords.

Expedition Well Planned. Months ago Commander Byrd and his staff began the work of planning, outfitting and laying the foundation for this great adventure into unknown lands. The "Samson" was located in Norway, brought to New York and overhauled. She is equipped with an all-steel prow to cut her way through stubborn fields of floating ice and is reinforced in many ways to stand the buffeting she will likely receive in the South Polar seas. Many refinements, such as electric lights, wireless sets, electric refrigeration for the tropical part of her voyage and a communication steam and electric bread making machine, are a part of her equipment. Rechristened as the City of New York, she has sailed on her eventful voyage as the first of the fleet of three boats to carry the full expedition and its equipment to its Polar base.

While there is a tremendous minimum of detail in carrying civilization effectively into the heart of a savage nature, the first analysis of the most important factor in the success of an expedition such as this is the food. Napoleon, who was making no wisecrack when he coined the famous phrase, "An army travels on its stomach."

Not a "Pink Tea." Meats, poultry, vegetables, dairy products, all worthy of the table at a Fifth Avenue hotel will be on the menu of the Byrd party. A list of the dishes that will be served and comforts that will be provided has already led many to exclaim, "pretty soft" and "some party" and excited other expressions full of selfish envy. But anyone who thinks this expedition has been planned along the lines of a picnic is a pink tea does not savange Byrd's knowledge of conditions to be met nor do they have his vision of the best ways to "lick" the sullen Antarctic. Physical condition, high spirits and confident determination are elements vital to doing a civilized job in a wild and supposedly barren territory.

The problem of taking food that will contribute to these results in quantities sufficient to care for sixty men through two to two-and-a-half years and keeping it in good condition throughout that time is no small one.

It has been learned, for instance, that in crystallized and gradually unfreezes at a temperature of 30 degrees below zero; therefore, foods packed in this way would be of no value unless very carefully protected. Storage places for tinned goods had to be provided on the supply ships and the cans sealed. Some foods will be packed in glass and many scientific devices used to insure a proper and adequate food supply at all times. The expedition is carrying more than 1,200 items of food, representing the ingredients for any dish which the modern housewife can prepare.

Among these items are thirty tons of meat—chicken, turkey and beef, three tons of smoked ham, two tons of bacon, sixty tons of groceries, two thousand pounds of cocoa, three thousand pounds of powdered milk, one hundred and fifty cases of sweetened condensed milk, a ton of sugar, call great body builders and heat producers), a ton of salt, two tons of coffee, two tons of flour and three tons of washing powder.

A thousand pounds of flavored gelatin for the preparation of a hundred and one desserts and salads is on its way to the Byrd base. This is just one illustration of the home-like touch that will feature expedition cooking. It has even gone so far as to include a very large quantity of decaffeinated coffee, for those whose nerves do not take kindly to coffee containing caffeine, a condition the explorers expect to meet often when the rigors of Antarctic exploration begin to tell on the men. Large quantities of canned fruits and dehydrated vegetables, will taste like the real thing with the addition of a little water. Quite a contrast to the salt pork and pemmican and hardback of earlier exploring campaigns, although even these foods will be provided.

Just Like Mother's Cooking. No man on the City of New York or at the Polar base either, is going to have a chance to savor the home cooking or the pie his mother used to make, because he's going to have them all the time he is gone. Bread, rolls and pies will be baked fresh by the ship's baker every day. As the baker, Albert E. Gehring, and George Tennant, chief cook, are buddies and veterans of Byrd's successful North Pole trip, they understand thoroughly how to prepare tempting dishes for hungry and weary men, no matter what the difficulties that may exist.

Every Sunday and once or twice during the week there will be a roast chicken dinner, with hot biscuits and gravy, and on special holidays, there will be turkey. It doesn't seem so terribly trying even to be in a temperature many, many degrees below zero if one can sit down to a turkey dinner topped off with a delicious mound of flavored gelatin, Byrd's favorite dessert.

Byrd has selected the members of his party with great care. Thus, Tennant, who went through the icy test at the North Pole, has had his share of hardship in schools of experience.

Many Veterans on Trip. Bernt Balchen, who flew with Byrd over the North Pole, will attempt a similar feat over the South Pole. Chief Harold Gurne of the United States Navy Air Service will act as pilot on important air trips, while Dick Kantor, chief helmsman on Byrd's North Pole expedition will be among those present. Mulroy chief engineer on the North Pole trip, is also going along. John Jacobson, veteran for thirty years with the United States Navy will be the sailmaker. Dr. Francis Dana Comans, of Johns Hopkins University, has charge of the hospital and diet features of the campaign. Among the others, there is an ex-commander of the British Navy, who, by the way, is acting as boatman on this trip. There is one man who is a first class pilot, a good mechanic, a surveyor and a dog driver. An assistant doctor has shipped as seaman. There will be explorers, veterans of other Polar expeditions, aviators, physicians, geologists, zoologists and other scientific men, geographers, engineers, historians, writers, radio experts, a movie photographer, mechanics, seamen and many others who have some service of value to contribute to the expedition.

When a particularly stubborn ice barrier impedes the progress of the explorers, dynamites will be on the job with high explosives. Tractors and snow ploughs will be used to fight their way through stubborn snow-drifts. A small automobile with snow treads will help to eat up distance, when necessary.

No Arctic exploration could succeed without dog huskies. There will be 75 of them, with family trees many generations back filled with thrilling feats of mushing through the Arctic wilderness. These dogs, with much of the wolf strain in them, represent the pick of the North, all with records of achievement. The dogs "have been to school" under the tutelage of master drivers. They have also been carefully trained as any athlete and are in the veritable pink of condition.

Adequate Plane Equipment. Airplanes are going to play an important part in this expedition in trying for the South Pole and exploring the vast territory of the Antarctic. The total unknown region is an area of 4,600 square miles, the circumference of which is about 5,000 sea miles, more than one-third the distance around the World. To help Byrd prepare for this great undertaking, Edsel Ford put all the resources of the Ford plant at his disposal. The Commander will take with him a big all-metal tri-motored plane with the same factor of safety as an all-steel automobile body, for the attempted flight over the South Pole and several small all-metal monoplanes for observation work. The housing of the Antarctic band will be a matter of special care and luxury. Specialty designed houses to withstand the rigors of the Polar region will be erected by expert carpenters, which will provide living, sleeping and eating quarters for everybody as well as kitchens and rooms for relaxation. There will be a hospital, work-shops for scientists and a machine shop for the repair of damaged planes.

Clothing will be provided, much of it made by the Eskimos, of reindeer cloth, the lightest and warmest known for Arctic life. A plentiful supply of warm furs will be on hand to keep the men safe from frost bites. Even so small a detail as care of the feet has been carefully covered. A special grass has been imported from Norway to absorb the men's moisture and keep feet perfectly dry, thus avoiding frosty feet, one of the Arctic bugbears. Of course, there will be medicines of all kinds and a thousand and one little things that go to make up the comfort of men on such a long and arduous trip.

What are the purposes of all this preparation many will probably ask. One of the important aims of the expedition will be to study weather conditions. Find out, if possible, the sources of the winds of the world and also gather data which will add to scientific information on light. Search will be made for animal, vegetable, mineral, marine and bird life and even extinct life of ancient times. Meteorologists of the United States government and other places will be on hand with sun compasses and other highly specialized scientific apparatus to study all conditions bearing on the weather of the Polar region and its relation to the rest of the world. Astronomers are in the party to study the stars. Night pictures will be taken and a study of the famous Southern Cross will be made. The expedition will probably plot out land in the South Pole region, draw up maps and wherever possible try to establish landing fields for future explorations by way of the air.

While the men appreciate the difficulties and dangers to be met, they feel that where civilization has conquered before, it can again. So they are entering this expedition with high hopes, and spirits, and a cool confidence backed by knowledge and equipment that gives them at least a sporting chance to win the fight.

Out of the Past

Happenings of Days Gone by as Chronicled in The Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times, the Files Reveal.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Local Miscellany.—The butchers are paying eight cents per pound for live stock.

The teachers of the infant department and members of the choir of Trinity Reformed church realized $27 at the food sale held in the Warner building on last Saturday morning.

There were fewer thunder showers in this section this summer than for many years, due probably to the unusually cool weather.

The Philadelphia North American, of Thursday contained a picture of the members of the First National Drum corps, of this place.

Free Scholarship.—Last Friday Governor Pennypacker appointed Samuel E. Bruner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bruner, of this place, to a free scholarship in the Veterinary Department of the University of Pennsylvania.

The governor also named Maurice C. Schriver, who is engaged in the sewing machine business in this place, for a free scholarship in the School of Industrial Arts, Philadelphia.

Gettys Lodge Elects Officers.—Last evening Gettys Lodge No. 124, I. O. O. F., elected the following officers for the ensuing term: N. G., E. G. Underwood; V. G., J. C. Wierman; Permanent Secretary, E. E. Slaybaugh; Treasurer, J. L. Schick; Trustee, Andrew Utz; Representative to Grand Lodge, George F. Young.

Lutheran Church in Porto Rico Dedicated.—On August 16th at Catano, Porto Rico, occurred the dedication of the Evangelical Lutheran church of the Divine Saviour. The hand bills and program were printed in Spanish. Rev. H. F. Richards, a graduate of the college and seminary, at this place, is the pastor of the church.

Aged Couple Wed.—Edward C. Blocher, aged 69 and Miss Susie Crum, aged 66, both of Bendersville, were united in marriage last Tuesday evening at the bride's home. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Barnhart.

Later in the evening the newly wedded couple were tendered a serenade by the Union band. A caltumpion band also gave them a noisy send off.

Corn Harvesters in Demand.—Farm hands are still scarce, according to reports from farmers in this vicinity. Many of our agriculturists have been compelled to purchase corn harvesters because of the scarcity of help to assist in putting their crops away.

Personal.—George L. Taylor, wife and child, of Altoona, spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Ira Taylor Carlisle street. Mr. Taylor, who was formerly of Arendtsville, is engaged in the wholesale tobacco business in Altoona and is doing a thriving business.

Miss Emma Smith, daughter of the late Joseph Smith, entered a convent at Baltimore, where she will become a sister of Mercy.

Robert R. Rowe, who has won distinction as a society reporter for "Town Topics," a New York paper, is spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Rowe.

C. C. Sefton has returned from Monterey, where he spent the summer.

George W. Spangler left for Philadelphia, Monday morning.

N. C. Barbeben, formerly local editor of the Gettysburg News, is now on the editorial staff of the Harrisburg Patriot.

William Reinecke, of Jersey City, N. J., arrived here last week and has become a member of the Freshman class at college.

Hays W. Mattern and family left yesterday for Johnstown, where he will engage in the grocery business.

Mrs. John Reed Scott, of Pittsburgh, is the guest of Mrs. C. S. Duncan.

Miss Margaret Barr is visiting friends at Harrisburg.

After a visit to relatives and friends at this place, Mrs. James Funk and Mrs. George Oyler, have returned to their homes at Winchester, Va.

Mrs. Louis Weygand leaves on Monday to visit her brothers at Toledo, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Trostle have returned to Piqua, Ohio.

John Bigham, clerk in one of the Harrisburg banks, spent Sunday with his parents in Freedom township.

Mrs. Andrew Becker and son, John, are off on a trip to Atlantic City.

Mrs. Anna Wilson returned on Wednesday from a delightful visit to her son Clarence at Tyrone.

Dr. W. M. Peddie and daughter, Katie, and William G. Cox, after a visit to Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Nixon, returned to their home in Hartford, N. C.

Mrs. Carrie McMillan Buck and daughter, landed in New York on Tuesday from India and arrived here Friday. Mrs. Buck is a sister of Lieutenant O. D. McMillan of this place, and has been a missionary for 32 years. She has several children attending institutions of learning in this country.

Miss Grace M. Plank has returned from an extended trip to Philadelphia, Norristown and Allentown, while in Philadelphia, she was the guest of her brother, Edward Plank, of the Athletics.

We are pleased to inform our readers that the condition of Charles H. Comfort's eye which was recently injured, is greatly improved, and that in all probability he will not lose the sight.

George Ziegler, a graduate of this office, now of Chicago, Ill., will be married to Miss Maude E. Heller, of that city, next Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

Miss Elaine Ingersoll, daughter of William Ingersoll, the leading man of the Grand Opera Stock company, Pittsburgh, and who owns and is now occupying "Players Lodge," near this place, was unanimously elected "Daughter of the Regiment" at a recent meeting of the officers of the Eighteenth Regiment N. G. P.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Swope of Mount Pleasant township, have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Myrtle Mae, to William Metzler Conover, the ceremony to take place at the bride's home on Thursday evening, Oct. 8th, at 6 o'clock.

Mrs. Huber G. Buehler and son Reginald will return to Lakeville tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rupp, of Lincoln street, spent Sunday with Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Metzgar, of Hanover.

CAMPAIGN STUFF

"White is the man I choose," said he,

"For he will give us cake and tea And many a night I lie awake Wishing I had both tea and cake."

"Black," said his neighbor, "is the man!"

To work and vote for him I plan And since I don't like cake or tea, White is anathema to me."

A nation's future is at stake And voters think of tea and cake! And some are Black's and some are White's According to their appetites.

Lord, give us sense to understand The dangers which confront our land. When mighty issues we decide Teach us to put our whims aside.

Frisby Hancock is painting the front end of his house. The back end won't get painted as there was not enough paint, but that don't matter, and he says furthermore he better not catch anybody coming that way either.

Slim Pickens has to sing in the choir and went to all three of the stores at Tickville last Saturday trying to find a standing collar that would not interfere with his Adam's apple.

The Horse Doctor was called to see the mule owned by Yam Sims, and after diagnosing the case announced that the mule was not looking well.

panied Governor Pennypacker and family in the special train from Harrisburg, to attend the reception given by Major General Miller, to the officers of the National Guard were: George D. Thron and daughter, Miss Nina.

Howard Hartley and family spent Sunday at East Berlin.

Fairfield.—John Tawney, of Johnstown, a former resident of this place, is circulating among his old associates.

Miss Dora Harbold has returned from Baltimore with a full line of fall and winter millinery.

Sol Allison and several other young men from this place, took in the Gentry Brothers show at Gettysburg last Monday night.

Oh my! Some people get cross when their names appear in the paper, while others get cross when their names do not appear in the paper. So what is a poor correspondent to do?

Now, one day as Little Jack Rabbit rode upon his beautiful white horse, that same white horse which, you remember, had safely carried him over the drawbridge in the last story, he met an old man sitting by the wayside.

"Good day, my little traveler," said the man, drawing closer a large basket covered with a black cloth as the white horse stopped and commenced to paw the ground.

"May I ask what is in the basket?" enquired the little bunny.

"If you will come with me to my humble cottage, you shall see," answered the man, gazing with admiration at the little rabbit astride the great white steed. Although he had lived in Bunny Fairland for many years, the old man had never as yet seen a bunny on a horse.

On reaching his cottage near the edge of the wood, the old man invited the little rabbit to enter. Then, closing the door he carefully raised the black cloth, and out of the basket flopped a big snow-white goose.

"Lay, lay!" commanded the old man, and immediately the great white goose laid an egg of gold.

"Take it," said the old man, "and if at any time you are in trouble, crack the shell." Then opening the cottage door, the old man led the goose to a brook which flowed nearby.

The little rabbit was sorely puzzled, not knowing why the old man should give away this wonderful egg. Nevertheless, the bunny boy carefully placed it in his pocket and, thanking the old man mounted his white horse and rode away. By and by, after a while and more than a mile, he came to the ocean. Reining in his good steed, he looked across the water, when, all of a sudden, a sweet voice began to sing:

"Under the ocean's restless tide Is the merman's kingdom, far and wide, The coral glows pink in the watery breeze And the sea moss waves like the forest leaves, And the sea shells croon the same soft tune As they rest on a hilly, sandy dune. Oh, I never long for an earthly home, For I love my kingdom under the foam."

and the next minute a pretty mermaid swam up to the shore.

"Don't you want to come with me to my beautiful kingdom under the sea?" she asked, with a smile.

"What shall I do with my horse?" said the anxious little bunny.

"Oh, don't worry about me. I'll wait in yonder meadow," answered the obliging animal.

"Can you swim?" asked the mermaid, looking doubtfully at the little bunny.

"Dear me!" thought the little rabbit, and he scratched his ear with his furry foot. Suddenly he remembered the golden egg. Carefully breaking the shell, he found inside a tiny boat, which as soon as placed in the water, increased in size until it was large enough to hold him.

"Jump in!" cried the mermaid. "Now you can visit my kingdom!" and away they went. And in the next story you shall hear of another adventure the little rabbit had in Bunny Fairland.

Popular Young Matron
Endorsed New Medicine
Collier's Old Herbs

Says Is Relieved Her Of A Bad Case Of Constipation And Stomach Trouble.

"Thanks to your wonderful medicine, Collier's Old Herbs, I am now enjoying better health than I have for years. It is one medicine that I am glad to say has proven satisfactory in every way, and after giving it a good fair trial, I continually with severe pains in my sides and back and of late my stomach was so upset I could hardly eat a thing. Lots of days even the smell of food nauseated me, and what little I did eat would only lay in my stomach and sour and ferment causing me to suffer continually with gas and indigestion pains.

"As I said before I was simply in a run-down condition in every way, but as bad as my condition seemed, your Old Herbs gave me almost instant relief. After I had used it only a short time my bowels began to move regularly; stomach and entire system seemed to be thoroughly cleansed of all poisons and waste matter; and I was once more able to sit down and enjoy a good meal without fear of suffering from gas and indigestion pains, and the best part of it is I eat anything I want.

This was something I could not do before I used Collier's Old Herbs." This great natural medicine is an herbal mixture called Collier's Old Herbs and is out-selling any other medicine where it has been introduced.

The Old Herb Man is at Peoples Drug Store, Gettysburg, Pa., where he is explaining this celebrated liquid compound. Free samples given.

Collier's Old Herbs is sold and recommended by druggists in the following cities in Taneytown, Md. by Robert S. McKinney, in Emmitsburg, Md., by Housers Drug Store, and in Hanover, Pa. by Baughman's Drug Store.

Church Of Rockefeller's The congregation is one of New York's old and distinguished Norfolk street, far downtown on church groups, founded in 1841 on the east side. It was in 1895 while the church occupied a site at Forty-sixth street and Fifth Avenue, that the men's Bible class was formed with Charles Evans Hughes, then a rising young New York attorney, as leader. Later the class was led by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and its membership was counted by the hundreds.

Mr. Hughes and Mr. Rockefeller are members of the present congregation. So are Mr. Rockefeller's five sons, David, John D. III, Nelson A., Laurence and Winthrop. So, too, are Percy Rockefeller and Mrs. David Milton, the former Abbie Rockefeller, James C. Colgate, banker and member of the soap family; Edward L. Ballard, insurance executive; D. Hunter McAlpin, hotel man; and David K. Knott, former sheriff of New York county and a Tammany leader, are members or pew holders.

in ten years the congregation is building a large edifice to hold the throng.

Not many churches need to hang out a "Standing Room Only" sign. But unless members of the Park Avenue Baptist church are in their pews at 10:40 each Sunday morning their seats are given to strangers. Then the room of the men's Bible class in the basement is thrown open, and it, too, fills to capacity almost every Sunday morning. Finally an upstairs chamber is made available, and when Dr. Fosdick begins to preach, his audience consists not only of the 800 seated in the main auditorium, but of 500 downstairs and 200 or 300 more upstairs listening to the sermon through amplifiers, unable to see the speaker.

Room For Everybody Only six years ago the Fifth Avenue Baptist church was abandoned by the congregation now headed by Dr. Fosdick, and the Park Avenue Baptist church was built at Sixty-fourth street to provide a bigger auditorium. Next fall the congregation will move again, to its new Riverside church, on "the Drive" opposite Grant's Tomb. Here the auditorium will seat 2,400 persons. The officers hope that overflow meetings may be done away with then.

DRUGGIST DECLARE PILE REMEDY WORKS WONDERS

Piles & Hemorrhoids Are Relieved Quick By Simple Method
ONE DRUGGIST SAYS REMEDY CURED HIM

I'm a druggist myself and when I say this new internal way of getting rid of Piles is best I know for I suffered myself for twelve years and during that time tried everything on the shelf," declares Robert Higgins, Ph. G.
"One of the clerks in the store told me how wonderfully these Colic Pile Pills had helped his wife, so I took a bottle home because I was suffering terribly at that time and I want to say they are the finest remedy for this painful affliction I ever heard of, and I often recommend them to customers," continued Mr. Higgins, druggist in Corinthe, N. Y. Local druggists here are featuring Colic Pile Pills. Thousands of tests prove this new internal treatment most effective for real and lasting results.

A GREAT DISCOVERY
A famous chemist asked himself one day: Why can't I coat a pill with a substance impervious to gastric juices so it will pass through the stomach into the bowels and then dissolve and release a combination of healing, soothing herbs that reach the real seat of all the trouble—remove the cause—and permanently banish piles and hemorrhoids? Colic Pile Pills are the final result of his research and it certainly is nice to know that at last no matter how long or severely one has suffered, they can forget nasty selves, suppositories, etc., and enjoy the benefits of this simple, harmless, scientific method. Even delicate old men and women troubled with piles, sit, walk and sleep in comfort without pain in a few hours in many instances and report complete relief in a few days. Colic Pile Pills are made in the world's largest laboratory of finest ingredients. Several local druggists offer to gladly refund the 75 cents a regular bottle costs if they fail to relieve completely, even the worst or chronic case. Certainly no one, young or old, should suffer another day. Just a couple of tablets with swallow of water at meal time for a few days. If your own druggist store hasn't Colic Pile Pills, send to Colic Chemical Co., Brentwood, Md., with name and address for full size bottle, 40 tablets, plain wrapper, full directions, return mail—adv.

The Singing Fool

By HUBERT DALL

Copyright, 1928, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.
"THE SINGING FOOL," starring Al Jolson, is a Warner Bros. pictureization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS
Marcus, the famous Broadway producer, heads a party of four that visits Blackie Joe's night club downtown New York. Al Stone, Blackie's chief comedian and singing waiter, begs Molly, the ballad singer, to render a love song he has just written for her. Molly is disdainful and refuses even to read the song. Al is in love with her but she tells him harshly that she will never marry a waiter. Then she leaves her dressing room and goes to the Marcus table, trying to ingratiate herself with the famous producer. Al is in despair. Grace, the cigarette girl, who loves Al and wants to see him happy, asks him what is the matter.

CHAPTER V
"Nothing's the matter, kid," said Al, making a show of throwing off his depression. But his wan smile belied his words.
Grace gazed hopefully up into his face. Her expression said plainly that if he would only confide in her she was sure she could help him.
Slowly he studied her young, sensitive features. She was an awful sweet kid, undoubtedly, and he liked her, but—
At that moment someone else arrived to interrupt his thoughts. Blackie, all excitement, entered the corridor, calling out:
"Get ready, Al—you're on next!"
Al turned lack-lustre eyes toward Blackie. Then, suddenly, a plan that had been forming vaguely in his mind ever since Molly's harsh exit, took definite shape. He drew himself up and said quietly:

Blackie Joe cheers up a pal.

"Blackie, I'm quitting tonight."
Blackie retreated a step as if he had been struck, while a little cry of amazement escaped Grace. Her hand went to her mouth in a quick gesture of apprehension. Blackie was the first to recover himself.
"Don't be a fool, Al," he said earnestly, putting a hand on his singing waiter's shoulder. "You've got a good job here and a following among the customers. You can't quit off-hand like this—why, it wouldn't be fair to me or to yourself."

Al nodded slowly. Yes, he had thought of that. But there were other things to be considered.
"You won't miss me," he suggested. "You've got lots of talent. And I simply couldn't sing a comic song tonight—it's impossible the way I feel. And Blackie—I don't want to be a waiter any more. I want to write. The waiter racket will never get me anywhere—I know it!"
Al's vehemence increased as the words poured from his mouth. He saw his way clearly now—he would leave this place and never see Molly again. That was the only way to solve his problem. Suddenly his sense of reserve was lifted from him; he determined to give Blackie his complete reason.

"The only reason I've hung on here," he exclaimed passionately, "was to be near her! She's turned me down and—it hurts. She's the only person in the world I want, and without her . . . well, you can see now why I can't stay."
His voice trailed off at his concluding words and his shoulders sagged hopelessly. Blackie nodded. Again his hand rested comforting on Al's shoulder. He could see how vitally this affected his prize singing waiter—why, the boy's whole world had been turned upside down.

"Molly—eh?"
Al's head came up at the mention of the beloved name. He nodded.
"I wrote her a song—a love song. I poured my heart into it because it was for her. I wanted her to sing it, so she'd know how I felt toward her, but do you know what she did? She wouldn't even look at it; she laughed. . . . I found the song sheet here on the floor where she had walked on it!"
Al glanced down at his hand, which still held the crumpled ballad. There was nothing more for him to say now; Blackie understood at last.

If Al's explanation of his sudden decision astonished Blackie, it produced reactions that were much more startling and complicated in Little Grace. She was not only hurt because Al was hurt, but, for the first time, resentment flamed up in her toward Molly. How could Molly, who was able to put such a wealth of feeling into the rendering of a ballad, act in such an unfeeling way toward Al?

Grace's slim white fingers pressed hard against the sides of her cigarette tray until the skin went white. A sudden wave of pity swept over her; she wanted to turn, rush out into the main room, and upbraid Molly for her heartlessness. Keen-eyed Grace knew that Molly had left Al to go to the Marcus table. She knew Molly was trying to worm her way into the good graces of the producer.
Then the anger passed as quickly as it came, while an expression of tender sadness crossed Grace's face. She realized that these admissions of Al's meant that she could never mean anything to him, never have a chance to help him. They meant that he would pass out of her life completely, perhaps within a few moments. She felt tears welling up in her eyes, and she bravely fought them down.

By this time a plan was emerging in Blackie's mind to aid his singing waiter. After all, Al was his friend as well as his star performer in the floor show, and he wanted to do him a good turn if he could.

Washington Highlights

Washington—A minimum of 35,000,000 votes will be cast in this year's presidential election, according to Simon Michelet, president of the National Get-Out-the Vote Club and an outstanding analyst of ballot statistics.

"I won't be a bit surprised," Michelet says, "if it's forty million."

Roughly estimated, about 59,000,000 men and women will be entitled to vote on November 6. Thus, according to Michelet's estimate, up to two-thirds of the eligible vote may be cast.

This would be an immense proportional increase over 1924, when the 29,000,000 votes cast for Coolidge, Davis and La Follette were only about 52 per cent of the total eligible vote. The percentage for 1920 is estimated to have been about 49.

Mr. Coolidge, it may be observed, was returned to the White House by but 29 per cent of the electorate, less than one-third.

Michelet explains that he has been in communication with state, county, city and other officials in every state.

"From every source," he says, "comes the word that we are going to have the heaviest vote, in proportion to the number who can vote if they want to, since 1896.

"The biggest increase is going to come from the women. Officials in many districts write that they know of precincts in which every man and woman will be at the polls this year. Hundreds of messages are coming to me from men and women who want to know how they can vote. Women's organizations over the country are intensely interested.

"Women take an interest in presidential elections which they don't take in local elections. And heretofore nearly all our national campaign issues have been economic issues.

"Women aren't so much interested in economic issues and are still in the process of becoming informed about them.

"But they understand what the issues are in this campaign and they're not going to depend on their men folks to explain them and tell them how to vote. In previous elections they have generally voted as their men voted, but in November there will be a great amount of division in families. Many a house will be divided against itself.

"It's a sure thing, first, that many more women are going to vote now who never voted before and, second, that they will begin to vote with complete independence."

Neither in 1920 or 1924, Michelet points out, did the campaign contain the issues of 1928. Nor did either of the last two campaigns present a similar uncertainty of outcome.

Police Question Man Three Days On Burning Of Motorist

Reading, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Detained by state police for three days and then released Costos Haldos, a Reading barber, is home again preparing to collect $25,000 insurance on the death of his cousin, Charles J. Kaldes. The latter's body was believed to have been bound at the wheel of his automobile near Hershey 9 days ago, the machine afire and the body badly burned. The body buried at Hummelstown on Saturday has not been absolutely identified.

Haldos was questioned for three days by police but established an alibi in the case.

TOLL ROADS SOON TO PASS IN STATE

Harrisburg, Oct. 3. (AP)—The toll road, the bane of motoring a decade or more ago will soon cease to be a reality in Pennsylvania.
Two of these roads, both in Lancaster county, remain on the state highway system now and after tomorrow when the state highway department formally purchases one of these, only one will remain.
For the first time since it was built the Lancaster and Fruitville turnpike will be free of tolls tomorrow when a check for $8,500 passes to the present owners. The only other toll road, the New Holland turnpike, the highway department said, will be freed of toll if owners agree to a fair price for its purchase.

You Will Set Aside A State Law

A certain State Law, necessarily drawn to fit the average instead of the individual case, is waiting to distribute your property to your heirs.

By making a Will in due legal form, however, you can set aside this law so far as it affects your estate. Naming this strong, Government-supervised institution in your Will as Executor insures distribution of your property in accordance with your plans.

SIMPLE HOME REMEDY FOR GRAY HAIR OR BALDNESS

Banishes Dandruff, Eczema, Etc. Revives Youthful Lustre and Color

RESULTS AMAZING
FOLKS HERE SAY

"I bought a bottle for one of the children to stop the itching rash and dandruff for which its wonderful and using it on my own scalp I was amazed to notice my hair getting thicker, more even colored and every gray hair turned back again, like magic," enthusiastically declared a lady whose beautiful head of hair is a walking advertisement to the success of Lea's Hair Tonic.
"Lea's Hair Tonic has the faint odor of bay rum and contains sulphur which as everyone knows is a natural part of human hair, but in addition it has seven ingredients a doctor labored years to work out in his search for something harmless which one could use for years with unvarying change in the hair. He didn't want an oldtime dye that brings such shocking shades, ever growing worse and darker. He sought a tonic to be rubbed into the scalp and not on the hair. (You can dip hair in a basin of Lea's Hair Tonic with no change in color, but rub it into the hair roots nightly a few times and watch the hair gradually resume from root to tip its youthful color of blonde, red, brown or black, whichever it originally was and who can give your hair a more becoming shade than the one nature gave you first?
Applied at home with finger tips like any tonic, experts cannot detect its use. In about three applications dandruff vanishes and the scalp begins taking on a healthy tone—then the mirror whispers a little secret—you are NOT gray any more and your hair is thicker and you look years younger. Men swear by it. Prominent men and women constantly before the public wouldn't dream of staining their scalp with dye but Lea's is different—thousands use it unbeknown except to the family and you may too for druggists have Lea's Hair Tonic, or send dollar bill to Lea Tonic Co., Brentwood, Md., for bottle and directions, return mail, adv.
